Summary

My name is Ryan Holstein. I'm 24 year old freelance FullStack developer from Los Angeles, California. Currently looking for opportunities in the Los Angeles Area.

I am sure you don't have all day for me to talk about myself, so here is who I am in two words.

Problem Solver

I can't even count the amount of the nights I have not been able to sleep because my mind was racing with ideas on how to tackle current problem I was facing. There is so much to learn from trying to solve problems, even if your ideas don't pan out in the way you expected them to.

Student

I have a passion to learn new things and I am a strong believer there is nothing I can't do or learn given time and hard work. I am constantly pushing myself to learn new skills as well as optimizing my current skills and always becoming more efficient.

Recent Projects

Cian Moore

Summary:

This website was created for the photographer Cian Moore as a portfolio site where he can share his work. This website uses Html and Javascript as well Sass. The website is set up to be scalable so it will easily grow with him as his list of work increases.

What I learned:

This project brought me back to basics when it came to using just HTML and Javascript. I learned how to manipulate the DOM based on data I stored without the use of framework. I also used gulp and SCSS for the first time and learned how to use these skills to increase the work flow. I also learned alot about different optimization methods for a better user experience.

Love Isabella

Summary:

This website was created for the Tripoli Gallery. It was silent art auction that raised money for the victims of Hurricane Maria in Isabela, Puerto Rico. This website uses a Node.js with Express backend and the database MongoDB. The website also uses the Stripe payment system to recieve payments and donations. It was set up so the client, Tripoli Gallery could add and edit all of the items up for auction via an administrator section of the website.

What I learned:

The main thing I learned from this project was how use a secure connection using SSL certificate. It was also a great experience to learn alot about using and interacting with external api's like Stripe to handle all of our payments.

Two Thumbs Up

Summary:

Two Thumbs Up is a Web application created using the TMDB api along with Django. We created a Application which would allow users to watchlists and playlist, as well rate movies and Tv shows. User would be able to follow other Users and see their review of the movie. SQLite was used with django to store all of our information.

What I learned:

This was my first big project using the Django framework as well as coding the backend with python. This was also my first project working as group and using git with other peopleh. I gained alot of knowledge about json and how to read and format it when you receive it.
